Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Speech of Mr. Segar, of Elizabeth City and Warwick: On the Election of State Officers, Delivered in the House of Deligates Mr. Segar said he had risen, not so much to sustain the nomination of Mr. Heath, who for thirty years had honored and adorned the office of First Auditor, as to enter his protest against the principle on which it was proposed to exclude him. Gentlemen had shown great unwillingness to make confession of their principle of action; had seemingly shrunk from its avowal, as well they might, for on no consideration of public policy, of right, or of justice, could it be defended. The gentleman from Franklin had said the thing was to be done, right or wrong, and because the dominant party had the right to do it. The gentleman from Rockingham had put it on the ground that Mr. Heath was an active partisan, and had written a play burlesquing the Democracy; but the gentleman from Roanoke had let the cat out the bag, manfully faced the music, and placed the thing on the true basis - that of retaliation upon General Taylor for federal removals. If any doubt could exist on the subject, it would be at once removed by reference to the democratic presses in this city, which, from day to day, send forth strong party appeals for the removal of the Whig State officers, on the principle of the lex talionis. Gentlemen could not disguise it: - it was nothing more nor less than a proposition to introduce, new for the first time, in Virginia, the doctrine of proscription - to rear for the first time, over the...
