Not illustrated. 1874 Excerpt: .occasions which are not comprehended in the general prayers of the Litany? Is there anything corresponding with our Occasional Prayers and Thanksgivings in the early Liturgies? What changes have been made in their position; the Communion Office in Edward s first Prayer Book, four more were added, and placed with them at the end of the Litany in the second Book. Of those in time of Dearth and Famine, the second had been left out in the Prayer Books of Elizabeth and James, but it was replaced after the Restoration. The Ember Collects have already been noticed. Six of the seven Thanksgivings date from James I.; and that for Restoring public peace at home from the last review. Wheatly: C. P. Palmer: Origg. Lit. li. 6. Cardwell: Conf. p. 222. 12. In this part of the Service the prayer for the Parliament is read during the Session; that for all sorts and conditions of men, as already stated, whenever the Litany is omitted; and the General Thanksgiving without any intermission. As might be expected, there is no prayer precisely agreeing with that for the High Court of Parliament, in any of the primitive offices; but such a prayer is perfectly consistent with the practice of the early Christians, who prayed for the Roman Senate. During an adjournment the prayer is still to be read; but not when Parliament is prorogued, and therefore discharged from the dispatch of business. The epithets, religious and gracious, applied to the...
